

Women in Agriculture Conference

Conference for Women in Agriculture to be held in north central Indiana Feb. 4-5, 2009.

12/12/2008

Other Ag-related Events of Interest

From seasonal events to conferences, festivals and workshops, visit the HobbyFarms.com calendar of events for activities from around the country. If you're a woman involved in agriculture--and within driving distance of north central Indiana--mark your calendar for the eighth annual Midwest Women in Agriculture Conference.

The conference--designed to address personal, family and farm issues that affect women's lives, families and farm businesses--will be held:

Feb. 4-5, 2008
Swan Lake Resort
5203 Plymouth-LaPorte Trail
Plymouth, Ind.

Women working on the family farm or working in the agribusiness industry are encouraged to attend.

Topics on the Agenda

The younger generation is another target of this year's conference. Say conference planners, "the hope is to integrate the younger generation into agriculture and focus on niche markets that an operation may be able to take advantage of."

A few other topics to be covered at the conference include: Creating a winery Cooperatives Arthritis and agriculture Public relations training for your operation (Read more now about one way to promote your farm business.) Engaging generations Farm safety for kids (Read more now about farm safety.) Wind energy Professional farm management. Is it right for you? (Read more now about becoming a farm entrepreneur>>)

Early registration deadline is Jan. 16.

More information

Find conference info online: <http://www.agriculture.purdue.edu/wia/conference.html>
Or contact Stacy Herr, 765-973-9281; sherr@purdue.edu.

The Women in Ag Conference is sponsored by Purdue Extension, Indiana Farm Bureau and Farm Credit Services of Mid-America.

Top